A WHIRLWIND RALLY IN THE SECOND HALF WON OUT FOR MCGILL

QUEENS OUTCLASSED IN LAST TEN MINUTES

THE BRILLIANT COMBINATION OF MCGILL BASKETBALL TEAM BEWILDERED THE KINGSTONIANS

Queens Lead when there was Fifteen Minutes Left to Play but from then on Never Had a Chance as They were Outplayed

Coming from behind in the last ten minutes of play the McGill Basketball team defeated Queen's by a margin of ten points in one of the fastest games of basketball seen in Montreal for a long time. The Red and White team made a remarkable rally and by fast, clever combination combined with good shooting simply swept the wearers of the tricolor off their feet.

The floor and baskets were new to Queen's but the McGill team were also at a disadvantage as they have only had a few practices on the Y.M.C.A. floor. The baskets are also more difficult to score in than the ones in the McGill gymnasium. The small score of 8-5 at half time is remarkable as play throughout was fast.

At half time the McGill team put on two new men, Smith and Willis-Croft, who replaced Forbes and Kennedy. The change improved the team as their play was faster after the interval. Towards the end of the game the open floor work of the home team was brilliant; on one occasion the whole five men handling the ball and eventually scoring a basket.

Queens were at a slight disadvantage as the McGill team were heavier and three of the men were far taller than their covers. They made up for this, however, by the closeness of their checking. Stern and Watts played a splendid game for the visitors, and Watts' checking was particularly effective. Duffield for McGill, also played a splendid game. He is faster and surer than he was last year and some of his shots were of the spectacular variety. On one occasion he put the ball into the basket with a shot over his head.

Calder, at centre, was, as usual, a tower of strength to the McGill team. His passing, shooting and checking all being well up to the mark. Baldwin played consistently throughout, although he seemed to be a bit off in his shooting. The same thing applies to the whole team however. The poor shooting was particularly noticeable on the free shots awarded for penalties as McGill only secured one point on free throws against four acquired by the Kingstonians.

The Queens team were fast, and good shots and at times displayed some nice passing. They were inferior to McGill on open floor play, and it was only due to the bad luck which seemed to dog the McGill efforts to score that the final tally was not far larger for McGill.

The game, however, was an excellent one, and both teams deserve every credit for putting up one of the fastest exhibitions of basketball ever played in the Intercollegiate.

THE PLAY.

Immediately after the face, Barrett scored for Queens. After several throw ins, a face and a free throw for Queens, Baldwin netted McGill's (Continued on page 4.)

SKATING PARTY AND DANCE TO TAKE PLACE WEDNESDAY AS PREVIOUSLY ANNOUNCED

All Arrangements have been Completed and the Hockey Club will Carry Out their Plans if the Weather Permits

TICKETS WILL BE ON SALE TO-MORROW MORNING

There will be a Hurdy Gurdy on the Rink and an Orchestra in the Union

Wednesday evening, it is expected, will see the campus rink again gay with crowds of skaters. In addition to this, following the skating, there will be an informal dance in the Union.

If the cold snap which set in yesterday continues the Executive of the Hockey and Skating Club expect that Wednesday nights gayeties will attract a larger crowd than the skating party held ten days ago, which proved such a success. On the preceding occasion the promised music failed to put in an appearance but this time the Club are going to do things in style. Not only will they have a barrel organ on the rink but they will also have a first-class orchestra in the Union, which will provide soft strains of music for the dancers.

Refreshments will be served between the skating and dancing by the Shew Catering Co., and are sure to be delectable. The tickets will be placed on sale to-morrow morning and will cost seventy-five cents for those who already possess season tickets for the rink. Others will have to pay a dollar.

IT IS UP TO YOU!

The Swimming Club have been placed in a rather awkward position by untoward circumstances which have recently arisen. All arrangements had been made in regard to the teams trip to the States. The men had been practicing faithfully for months and performing remarkably in the try-outs. The coming trip had been heralded weeks before hand in the daily press and in the college papers across the line; and then, yesterday afternoon, the unpleasant fact cropped up that the financial position of the Council was such as to render it impossible for that body to give the Swimming Club the two hundred dollars required in addition to their gate receipts.

It was an unpleasant situation for the executive of the undergraduate body to be in. Placed in a position of trust and responsibility for the student funds the members of the Council were faced on one hand by the enormous deficit brought over from the previous year and on the other by the loss of prestige which would surely follow if the swimming team were unable to keep their engagements. In addition to this the Council will have to finance the Swimming Club's trip to Toronto, which means a very heavy expenditure, considering that the Polo Team and Swimming Team will go up. After a lengthy meeting the Council were therefore forced to decide that it was impossible for them to provide the money.

And now, Undergraduates of McGill University, this is the situation you are called upon to face. Whether or not the Swimming Team are to fulfill their engagements. WHETHER OR NOT THE PRESTIGE OF MCGILL IS TO SUFFER FOR WANT OF A PALTRY TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS. Action of some kind is obviously imperative. IT IS UP TO YOU!

It is perhaps not generally recognized by the students that we have this year the finest swimming team which ever wore the colors of a Canadian University or Club. Not only this we have undoubtedly, if not the best, at least one of the best, college teams on the continent.

A comparison of the times made by the McGill men and the American Intercollegiate Swimming records goes far to bear out this statement. On Saturday afternoon the relay team clipped two seconds of the American Intercollegiate record for the relay race. Hodgson, McGill, Patterson, and all the rest of the swimming team are in the pink of condition and are performing phenomenally in all the other events.

Subscription lists have been started and placed in the Students Supply and the Union. In addition to this the various class presidents will also have lists. Already a good part of the money has been collected and the Daily hopes that this appeal will lead its readers to furnish the rest. It is not much we ask of you and we trust that your response will be generous. IT IS UP TO YOU.

A HYMN BOOK

We note with interest that "The University Hymn Book," which has been compiled by a Committee of Members of the University of Toronto, and published by the Oxford University Press, has found favor in the eyes of other critics besides ourselves. This book is entirely non-official and is suitable in every way for use of student song services. It is a valuable addition to the list of Hymnals now extant and might well be adopted by other Universities for the same purpose as it will be used at Toronto.

The choice of the hymns shows a fine appreciation of what is required, as most of the selections are of the type which has passed the test of time. There are however some new and interesting additions to the older hymns. The choice of the hymns has been made judiciously and conservatively with the result that the book is suitable for use anywhere. The compilers are to be congratulated on the excellent result of their work.

Before closing this editorial we cannot refrain from a passing comment regarding the McGill Song Book of which so much was heard last year. The fate of this enterprise is wrapped in mystery. We understand that the material was ready last spring for the printers. If this is so it might be well to send it there before the volume passes into the dusty realms of the past altogether.

THE SWIMMING TEAM IS WITHOUT A PEER IN THE LAND TO-DAY

MCGILL AQUATIC EXPERTS FINEST IN CANADA

WILL MEET PENN. AND YALE AND HOPE TO ARRANGE RELAY RACE WITH BROWN & HARVARD

The Latter Universities are Swimming at the McGill Meet in Brookline and Manager McKay Would Like to Arrange Relay Race Between all Four Teams

Next Friday McGill are sending a swimming team across the border to compete with the cream of the American Universities. At present the Swimming Club are in financial difficulties; the Student's Council has the trip and subscription lists have been opened. The Swimming Club certainly deserve the trip as they are certain to bring more laurels to Old McGill, and it is to be hoped that every man will give something, even if it is only twenty-five cents.

Hodgson needs no introduction, he is, without doubt, the greatest speed swimmer in the world to-day. Frank McGill, the youngest member of the team, is the best all-round water man in Canada. He can swim the 50 yard, 100 yards, and 220 yards and is the most effective man on the polo team. In practice, the other day, he did the 50 yard in 27 seconds.

George Draper of football fame is also an exceptionally fast man in 50 yards, and 100 yards. McKay, the genial manager of the swimming club makes the fourth member of the relay team. He has been on the relay team for four years and is showing remarkable form this year. This team holds the Intercollegiate Relay championship and in practice last week clipped 1 3/5 seconds off the American Intercollegiate record.

In the 50 yard event Draper, McGill and McKay will be entered, and in the 100 yard event, Hodgson, McGill, and Draper.

The rule of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association is that two men only from one team can be entered in any one event, so McGill and Draper will alternate in the 100 yard and 50 yard events. In the 220 yards Hodgson and McGill will be entered. Hodgson is practically sure of a win in all his events while Frank McGill stands a fine chance in the 50 yards. In the Long Plunge we have Stavert, an old guard, who holds the Can. Championship for this event and Patterson a new man who is showing remarkable form. In the Diving McLean, Thom and Draper all good men, who have been practicing faithfully. Lee Smith, and Brit. Smith in all probability will also make the trip. On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week trials will be held to finally decide upon the men to make the trip.

The team will leave on Friday evening at 7.45 and swim Saturday evening at Pennsylvania. On Monday night at New Haven, with Yale and on Wednesday evening they compete with famous Brookline Swimming Club of Boston.

It is just possible that a meet may be arranged with New York A. A. for Tuesday night. Manager McKay is trying to arrange to have the relay teams of Yale, Penn., Brown, and McGill come together at Boston. If this can be arranged it will probably mean that the Intercollegiate Relay Championship of America will rest with Old McGill.

Well, all up, to help along a deserving cause which will assuredly bring greater triumphs to McGill.

JUNIORS PLAY TIE WITH ST. LAMBERTS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Score was 3 All at the Call of Time

McGill III's and St. Lambert's opened the junior schedule at the Arena on Saturday afternoon the game resulting in a draw, three all. The ice was in a very poor condition, there being pools of water all over the surface. McGill pressed the play during the first few minutes, and on a pass from Fawcett, Graham managed to shove the puck past the St. Lambert goal tend. The heavy going told on both teams and the game became rather slow. Just before half time St. Lambert came to the fore and evened up matters.

The first ten minutes of the second half were all in St. Lambert's favor, and they scored twice in quick succession. With about seven minutes to play McGill came back to life and after a rush down the side Fawcett poked the rubber in. Right from the face off Graham evened up matters on a nice shot in front of goal. Both teams were feeling the effects of the heavy going and the gong sounded with matters even. Owing to another game coming on, no overtime was allowed. Considering that the III's played the game without any preliminary practice they made a very creditable showing, and will no doubt be heard from before the season is over. The McGill lineup was:

Goal—Montgomery
Point—Abbott
C. Point—Stewart
Rover—De Mith
Centre—Graham
L. Wing—Fawcett
R. Wing—Williamson

CONSERVATIVE PARTY ANNOUNCES CABINET

New Leader Chosen and List of Ministers Drawn Up

At a meeting of the Conservative Party Organizers on Saturday noon in the Union, the resignation of Mr. John McNaughton as leader was considered and accepted. Mr. McNaughton had thought the matter over carefully and decided that as he couldn't give all the time he considered necessary to the Party, he thought it was in their best interests to hand in his resignation.

Needless to say, the meeting was loth at first to consider it, but finally accepted it.

The question of a leader was then brought up, and by unanimous vote, it was decided to place Mr. Walsh in the position.

Mr. Walsh has spent a great deal of time and trouble in connection with the Mock Parliament, and the Organizers feel that they have made the logical choice, and that a better man could not be found.

The cabinet was then drawn up and consists of the following men:—

President of Council and Minister of Education W. F. McConnell, Minister of Finance—J. Kerry,
Minister of Justice—A. Stalker,
Minister of Public Works—D. McGuire
Minister of the Interior—P. Hutchison,
Minister of Trade and Commerce—H. P. McKeen,
Minister of Militia and Defence—L. M. Cosgrave,
Minister of Railways and Canals—J. S. Hall,
Minister of Mines—F. A. Parkins,
Minister of Marine and Fisheries—W. S. Sutherland,

Minister of Customs—J. Jenkins,
Minister of Labor—St. C. McEwen,
Postmaster General—H. F. H. Eberts

HIDES THE PAPER ON RELAPSE INTO SPORTING SLANG

Correspondent Disapproves of "The Intercollegiate Silverware," "Give the Fans a Line on" etc.

Jan. 17th, 1913.

Editor McGill Daily,
Dear Sir:—

On the front page of your paper of to-day's date you publish an article dealing with the prospects for the Queen's-McGill game. On reading this I was struck with the unusual amount of "sporting page" slang, which seemed to run through it. It is extremely unfortunate that a paper of such standing as the "McGill Daily" should needs fall back on this style of writing.

It seems to me that such expressions as "give the fans a line on"; "the Intercollegiate silverware"; "uncork a little combination"; "the tri-color sharpshooters"; "reputed white hopes"; annex the game"; and "have the jump on," should find no place in the columns of a paper intended for college men. The custom of reporting athletic contests in this undignified style originated with certain American editors whose papers cater to the taste of the uneducated and unrefined public. Until now the Daily has always reported in an intelligent way sporting news, and it is to be hoped that you will continue to publish articles which will be worthy of college men.

Very truly yours,

HAROLD R. GRIFFITH.

RADCLIFFE STUDENT FAVORS SLANG; SAYS WASHINGTON DAILY

Use "Going to the Dogs" and "Jolly Good," but Eschew "Gets My Goat" Says Writer

Mrs. Mary Greek Conklin, a special student at Radcliffe, who is some authority in language, having written a recent book on the subject, declares there is slang and slang—some not only permissible, but very acceptable, forceful and worth while.

"Slang is a legitimate ingredient of language," says Mrs. Conklin. "It is the element which keeps language alive and palpitating. Expressive slang lives and becomes a part of the language. Bad slang dies a natural death. If it were not for these changing values in speech our English would be the same today as Chaucer's English. One hundred years ago the word 'dovetail' was slang. It's now a stalwart word."

"Pure" slang and bad slang can be divided and exemplified as follows:

Good Slang—Eats, played out, jolly good, all in, going to the dogs, go against the grain, made his pile, chip of the old block, let the cat out of the bag, don't care a rap and a perfect brick.

Bad Slang—It's a peach, stung, kick the bucket, it gets my goat, it's the limit, won't stand for it, he is a goner, make tracks, cut it out, bet your sweet life, dope, and be on the job.—Washington Daily.

On Tuesday evening January 21st, Prof. H. A. Kent, Head of the Semitic Department of Dalhousie University will address the Oriental Society in the Engineering Building at 8.15 p.m. Prof. Kent will speak on the subject of "The Elephantine Papyri."

Prof. Kent is coming all the way from Halifax to give the lecture so that a full attendance of members is requested. The Oriental Society is primarily educational in its functions and exists as a source from which students can derive much useful information upon subjects which the man in the street usually knows very little about but which the University man cannot afford to be ignorant of. Students of McGill may be assured that nobody

MURAD CIGARETTES

Fifteen cents is not very much for a trial box of MURAD Cigarettes.

But it's enough to convince you, that, for the price, MURADS are the finest Turkish Cigarettes that you've ever smoked.

When you pay 15 cents for a package of cigarettes why not have the best—MURAD Cigarettes?

Don't let your tobacconist try to convince you that there are other Turkish Cigarettes "just as good" as MURADS.

Because there are not—not at the price, 15c. for 10.

Play was ragged for a while and then after a face found found the basket for Queens and the Kingstonians added another point on a free throw.

Queens, 5, McGill, 2.

Play improved, but a delay occurred when Forbes was hurt.

McGill then forced the play and Calder scored two baskets in quick succession, one of them on a hard shot. A nice piece of combination play between Duffield, Kennedy and Baldwin ended with another score for McGill, leaving the tally at half time Queens, 5, McGill 8.

When the teams came on after the interval Baldwin scored after a throw in.

Queens, 5, McGill 10.

Queens scored on an intercepted pass, and McGill found the basket for McGill. Queens scored two more on points making the board read

Queens 9, McGill 12.

Queens forced the play and tie the score with a nice basket and a free throw. McGill appear to be having hard luck and Queens score twice in close succession. On a nice piece of combination between Calder, Baldwin and Duffield, the latter scored and this was followed by a free throw which added another point for the Red and White. Pound, however, immediately scored another for Queens.

Queens, 18, McGill, 15.

From this time on, however, the McGill team outplayed the visitors; their combination improved and they scored three times in quick succession, the last time after a beautiful piece play in which the ball went from Duffield to Calder, to Baldwin, to Smith and in. This was immediately followed by another piece of play in which the ball went from Smith to Calder, to Smith, to Baldwin, to Smith, and in again, making the score
